Dear Professor Fogarty,

I am writing to congratulate you on the 50th anniversary of Warrane College and its many achievements since being opened by Sir Roden Cutler on 13 June 1971.

Over the past 50 years, Warrane College has provided a home to more than 5,000 young men from all over the country – and beyond – studying at University of New South Wales.

The College has sought to instil in its students the importance of Christian principles, community service and an expansive mindset, equipping them to reach their full potential in their careers and lives.

It is a credit to the College that many former residents continue to take an active interest in Warrane College's growth and development.

Congratulations to you all on this milestone and I hope you enjoy the upcoming anniversary celebrations.

Yours faithfully,

Gladys Berejiklian MP
Premier
